

Labor Market Review

Statistical data report for February 2011, Released April 2011

Economic Growth Region 10

Regional and State Unemployment (seasonally adjusted)

Regional and state unemployment rates were generally little changed in February. Twenty-seven states and the District of Columbia recorded unemployment rate decreases, seven states registered rate increases, and sixteen states had no change, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported. Forty-one states and the District of Columbia posted unemployment rate decreases from a year earlier, seven states reported increases, and two states had no change. The national jobless rate was 8.9 percent.

The West reported the highest regional unemployment rate in February, 10.8 percent, while the Northeast and Midwest recorded the lowest rates, 8.3 and 8.4 percent, respectively. Over the month, the Midwest, South, and West each experienced statistically significant jobless rate changes (-0.1 percentage points each). Three of the 4 regions registered significant rate changes from a year earlier, all of which were declines: the Midwest (-1.6 percentage points), Northeast (-0.7 point), and South (-0.4 point).
